Lenda Token

Lenda NFT is marketplace for selling and creating NFT. This market place can be distinguished from other markets places with main four unique features. The marketplace came after the great artist Leonardo Davinci which is gives a great value to NFT.

Lenda will feature a decentralized platform that is focused on cross-chain and multi-chain, it will as well feature an nft market aggregator which helps you buy multiple nfts in single transaction. This in turn helps you save a significant amount of fees in the gas fee which is pretty good

The Lenda platform ill also an escrow p2p platform which gives you the ability to trade without the necessity of an intermediary, which was previously impossible through the online realm before the introduction of blockchain technology. Now, anyone can conduct transactions with whomever they wish, all through a fluid trading process that only involves the parties within the trade. With swaps, this is done off-chain with no transaction fee, making the trade as seamless and easy to execute as possible.

The Lenda will focus on building these three primary functions as part of the first phase. Our mission is to simplify the minting, buying and selling NFT process between people around.
